

Álvaro Dean

W E B D E V E L O P E R

P: +34 679274485

E: alvaro.deangil@gmail.com

I am Álvaro Dean, and I am an enthusiastic junior web developer. I define myself as a confident person that can make a significant contribution to the company. I have been in the IT sector since 2021. I worked in the Digital Marketing and Sales sector before. This experience help me improving my develop knowledge in SEO to enhance my development projects and has honed my communication skills.

To improve my knowledge of programming practices and programming logic, I have completed more than 50 technical tests, all of which are in my GitHub repository. Additionally, I have worked on over 20 projects using HTML, CSS, JavaScript, PHP, Java, and SQL. What I have achieved with all of this, which helps me learn new technologies such as Laravel, React, and Angular. All of these projects are available on my website.

At the moment, I prioritize finding a job where I can continue learning and improving my skills. I would like the opportunity to work outside of my native country to face new challenges and gain valuable experience. I have a good level of English and Spanish at a native level.

Thank you for considering me for the job, and please feel free to contact me if you have any questions about my application or would like to discuss my credentials further.

Sincerely,

Álvaro Dean